Helped Every Way.

If the family of a soldier needed legal advice the home service saw that it was given without cost. If medical attention was necessary it was promptly forthcoming. If those at the front had lost touch with those at home the home service brought them together, and not infrequently used the government cables to do it. But it always held sacred the confidence of its beneficiaries, and it is only new that the great struggle is over that information of its wonderful success and humanitarian undertakings have leaked oil.

Things were not going right for a young Memphis boy over there. All the others got letters from home. He did not. One day he confided in a chum that he had become sugry with his wife and in a spirit of huffiness had enlisted, leaving her unprovided for He was wondering how he was getting slong, but he was too stubborn to write.

Demurrage Fight Most Im-

"The most important work of the Hardwood Traffic association was combating the demurrage rules which were promulgated by the director-general, according to the statement made by James E. Stark, president of the association, in his annual report delivered at a luncheon at the Hotel Gayoms at I o'clock Tuesday.

Over 100 lumbermen representing hardwood interests throughout his teritory gathered at the luncheon, which imaugurated the sixth annual meeting of the association. The meeting will conclude Tuesday evening with a banquet at the listel Gayoso, which will begin at To'clock A program of important addresses has been arranged to follow the dinner.

Gave Board Cinch.

A discussion of the lumber embargo was accorded an important place in the annual report of J. H. Townshend, the secretary-manager of the association, who spoke immediately following Mr. Stark. Mr. Townshend exonerated Mr. McAdoo fo responsibility for laying the embargo, which "was a very serious blow to the hardwood industry of the South. You can not lay that embargo to the railroad administration." said Mr. Townshend, "because it goes back farther, and it was issued at the request of the war industries board for outsil of the war industries board for the purpose of inducing lumber manufacturers in various parts of this context of the war industries board for the purpose of inducing lumber manufacturers in various parts of this context of the war industries board for the purpose of inducing lumber manufacturers in various parts of this context on the purpose of industry to the context on the first states government. Judge Prouty Took Hand.

The matter was handled vigorously with ratiroads and with ratiroad commission. Mr Townshend said, and was himself to a properly with ratiroads and with ratiroad commission. Mr Townshend said, and was finally presented personally to Judge Arrive C. A. Prouty, director of public services. Indeed Prouty requested that the association subtwith a draft of what it considered a fair scale of rates and this was done. In order to arrive at a fair scale we not forth in stalement form the nilleage scale of rates contained in log tariffs on file in our office and showed a combined average log rate is $8 per car for the first 10 miles and an aditional $1 for each additional mile. We therefore the made the scale $8 per car for the first 10 miles and an aditional $1 for each additional mile. As a result of the dealings with Judge Prouty. Mr Townshend said, the association received this wire on Dec. 24, by way of a Christmas giff. Instructed as Indianal statement for the first said. We have instructed all freight insfite committees to forward us applications for flat rates on present net rates.

"HARD-HEARTED COPS" AID DISTRESSED FAMILY

Patrolmen Hendricks and Turns Patrolmen Hendricks and Turney have put a crimp in the popular phrase, "the hard-hearted cop." They have performed an act of real goodfellowship. The big blue coats patroling their beat near Baxter place found a suffering family of the name of Mercer. The father was sick with influenza as well as the mother and children. There was no coal or food in the home. What did the "hard-hearted cops" do. They sent the woman to the hospital cach gave a dollar in starting a fund which was swelled by their friends and bought fuel and food which they sent to the home for the remaining members of the family.
